Paul Grbin

(Graduate Diploma in Wine 1990)

Associate Professor Paul Grbin is the University of Adelaide's Head Winemaker at its Waite Campus based Roseworthy Winery. He co-leads the Wine Microbiology Group in the University's Department of Wine Science within the School of Agriculture, Food & Wine.

He was instrumental in forming another of ROCA's sister Alumni groups, the Wine Alumni Network designed to bring together alumni from Roseworthy Agricultural College and The University of Adelaide in the disciplines of viticulture, oenology, wine business and wine marketing.

Paul Grbin has also been a member of the Vice Chancellor's Alumni Council.
